CIETES

IEEE Symposium on Computational Intelligence for Energy, Transport and Environmental Sustainability (IEEE CIETES)

2025 IEEE Symposium Series on Computational Intelligence

The primary focus of the IEEE Symposium on Computational Intelligence for Energy, Transport, and Environmental Sustainability is the convergence of computational intelligence (CI) with the vital areas of energy, transport, and environmental sustainability. This subject is crucial as it tackles the urgent difficulties encountered in energy, transportation, and environmental sustainability, which directly affect our world and future generations.
